Hear directly from industry experts, key administration officials and businesses on ways to more effectively promote exports to this large and growing market

Speakers will discuss:

- Opportunities available to U.S. Small and Medium Sized Exporters (SME) in the China market
- The impact SME trade with China has on U.S.-China relations
- The experiences of companies succeeding in China
- The challenges faced by SMEs doing business in China
- The governmental and non-governmental assistance available to SMEs engaged in the China market, or looking to do business in China

In addition to these presentations, representatives of the various Federal agencies which support efforts by SMEs to participate in the China market will be on hand and available during the Roundtable to field questions and provide additional information.

Members, staff, and outside groups are welcome.

Please contact Michael Dabbs (202-225-2605) or Richard Goldberg (202-225-4835) to RSVP or with any questions.
